

Gloucester Gallery Quire

Between 1750 and 1850, musicians played for village dancing and events. They would have also played music and sung from galleries or balconies in churches.

Frampton church had two such galleries, erected in 1735 and 1802.

During the Churchwardens' Ale, the Gloucester Gallery Quire will be doing some impromptu singing both inside and outside the church.

They welcome new members ElizabethAkhurst@talktalk.net

For more information on gallery quire music, please look at the West Gallery Music Association's website, www.wgma.org.uk